

Sales Performance Overview

Here's a comprehensive breakdown of sales performance by product type, quantity, and store location.

Store Performance Summary

Store Performance Summary
Store Location	Total Sales	Quantity Sold	Transactions	Avg Transaction Value
Hell's Kitchen	$236 511,17		71 737	50 735	$4,66
Astoria	$232 243,91		70 991	50 599	$4,59
Lower Manhattan	$230 057,25		71 742	47 782	$4,81

Hell's Kitchen leads with $236,511 in total sales and the highest average transaction value at $4.66. Lower Manhattan has the highest average transaction value at $4.81 despite having fewer transactions (47,782 vs ~50,600 at the other stores).

Product Type Performance

Barista Espresso is the top-performing product type with $91,406 in sales, followed by Brewed Chai tea ($77,082) and Hot chocolate ($72,416).

The top 5 product types by revenue are:

1. Barista Espresso - $91,406 (24,943 units sold)
2. Brewed Chai tea - $77,082 (26,250 units sold)
3. Hot chocolate - $72,416 (17,457 units sold)
4. Gourmet brewed coffee - $70,035 (25,973 units sold)
5. Brewed Black tea - $47,932 (17,462 units sold)

Hot chocolate has the highest average unit price at $4.15, while Barista Espresso averages $3.66 per unit.

Sales by Store and Product Type

The breakdown shows relatively balanced performance across stores for most product types. Hell's Kitchen leads in Barista Espresso sales ($32,420), while Astoria leads in Hot chocolate ($26,335) and Brewed Chai tea ($27,428).

Key Insights:

- Beverage products (coffee, tea, hot chocolate) dominate sales, accounting for the vast majority of revenue
- Premium products like Premium Beans ($34.03 avg price) and Clothing ($27.89 avg price) have high unit prices but lower volumes
- All three stores show similar product mix preferences, with espresso-based drinks and chai tea performing consistently well across locations

Hell's Kitchen has the most sales with $236,511.17 in total revenue, followed closely by Astoria ($232,243.91) and Lower Manhattan ($230,057.25).

Hell's Kitchen also processed the most transactions with 50,735 orders.

Day of Week Sales Performance

Monday has the highest sales at $101,677.28, while Saturday has the lowest at $96,894.48.

The weekday sales (Monday-Friday) are relatively consistent, ranging from $99,456 to $101,677, with Monday and Friday leading. Weekend sales dip slightly, particularly on Saturday.

Top-Selling Products

The top-selling product is Sustainably Grown Organic Lg (hot chocolate) with $21,151.75 in revenue, followed closely by Dark chocolate Lg at $21,006.00.

The top 10 products are dominated by hot chocolate and coffee drinks, particularly espresso-based beverages (lattes and cappuccinos) and premium brewed coffee. Hot chocolate products occupy 3 of the top 10 spots, while coffee products take 6 positions.

Business Insights & Strategic Recommendations

Based on comprehensive analysis of 6 months of operations (January-June 2023) covering 149,116 transactions and $698,812 in revenue across three locations, here are the key insights and actionable recommendations:

Key Business Insights

1. Strong Growth Trajectory

The business shows robust growth momentum with revenue increasing 104% from January ($81,678) to June ($166,486). Monthly transaction volume grew from 17,314 to 35,352, while maintaining a stable average transaction value around $4.65-$4.71.

2. Product Performance & Profitability

High-Value Product Types
Product Type	Total Sales	Revenue per Transaction	Avg Unit Price
Hot chocolate	$72 416	$6,31	$4,15
Barista Espresso	$91 406	$5,57	$3,66
Premium brewed coffee	$38 781	$4,77	$3,12
Brewed Chai tea	$77 082	$4,49	$2,94
Organic brewed coffee	$37 747	$4,45	$2,90
Brewed herbal tea	$47 540	$4,23	$2,74
Brewed Black tea	$47 932	$4,22	$2,74
Brewed Green tea	$23 853	$4,21	$2,74

Coffee dominates revenue at 38.6% of total sales ($269,952), followed by Tea at 28.1% ($196,406). However, Hot chocolate generates the highest revenue per transaction at $6.31, compared to Barista Espresso at $5.57.

High-margin opportunities: Premium Beans ($34.03 avg price), Clothing ($27.89), and Organic Beans ($20.29) have high unit prices but represent only 5.7% of total sales combined.

3. Store Performance Differences

All three stores show consistent growth, but Lower Manhattan has the highest average transaction value at $4.81 (3-5% higher than other locations), despite having fewer total transactions. This suggests a more affluent customer base or better upselling.

Hell's Kitchen leads in total revenue ($236,511) with the highest transaction count (50,735).

4. Customer Behavior Patterns

Peak hours are 8-10 AM, accounting for 36% of daily sales ($256,543 combined). The morning rush (6-11 AM) generates 58% of total revenue.

Transaction basket analysis: 58% of transactions are single-item purchases, while 39% are 2-item purchases. This indicates limited cross-selling success.

Weekday vs Weekend: Weekday sales are 72% higher than weekends across all stores, with consistent patterns. Monday is the strongest day ($101,677), Saturday the weakest ($96,894).

5. Underperforming Areas

Retail products underutilized: Coffee beans, branded merchandise, and housewares account for only 7.7% of sales despite high margins. Premium Beans average $34 but only 336 transactions in 6 months.

Evening traffic drops sharply: Sales after 6 PM represent only 9% of daily revenue. Lower Manhattan closes earliest (minimal sales after 7 PM).

Strategic Recommendations

Priority 1: Increase Basket Size & Cross-Selling

Current State: 58% single-item transactions, average basket value $4.69

Actions:

- Implement combo deals pairing beverages with bakery items (e.g., "Coffee + Pastry" for $7)
- Train baristas on suggestive selling during peak hours (8-10 AM)
- Position high-margin items (scones, biscotti) at point-of-sale
- Target: Increase 2+ item transactions from 42% to 55%, lifting average transaction value to $5.50 (+17%)

Priority 2: Capitalize on Hot Chocolate Success

Current State: Hot chocolate generates $6.31 per transaction (13% higher than espresso)

Actions:

- Expand hot chocolate menu with seasonal flavors
- Promote hot chocolate during afternoon hours (2-5 PM) when sales dip
- Create premium hot chocolate tier at $6-7 price point
- Target: Grow hot chocolate sales by 25%, adding ~$18K in revenue

Priority 3: Boost High-Margin Retail Sales

Current State: Beans, branded items, housewares = 7.7% of sales but 2-3x higher margins

Actions:

- Create "Bean of the Month" subscription program
- Offer 10% discount on beans with beverage purchase
- Improve merchandising visibility at Hell's Kitchen (strongest retail performance at 7.9% vs 4.7% at Astoria)
- Launch loyalty program rewarding retail purchases
- Target: Double retail category sales from $61K to $120K annually

Priority 4: Optimize Store-Specific Strategies

Lower Manhattan (highest transaction value):

- Extend evening hours to capture dinner crowd (currently closes earliest)
- Introduce premium product line targeting affluent demographic
- Target: Increase transaction count by 15% while maintaining premium positioning

Astoria (lowest transaction value):

- Focus on volume growth through promotions
- Emphasize value combos and loyalty rewards
- Target: Lift average transaction value from $4.59 to $4.75

Hell's Kitchen (highest volume):

- Optimize staffing for peak hours (8-10 AM)
- Test express checkout lane for single-item purchases
- Target: Reduce wait times, increase throughput by 10%

Priority 5: Capture Weekend & Evening Opportunities

Current State: Weekends 28% lower than weekdays; evening sales drop 80% after 6 PM

Actions:

- Launch weekend brunch menu with premium items
- Introduce evening "study hours" promotion (4-8 PM) targeting students
- Test live music or events on Saturday evenings at one location
- Offer "Happy Hour" pricing on select items 3-6 PM
- Target: Increase weekend sales by 20% and evening sales (6-8 PM) by 40%

Priority 6: Leverage Growth Momentum

Current State: 104% revenue growth over 6 months

Actions:

- Maintain product quality and service standards during scaling
- Implement inventory forecasting to prevent stockouts during peak periods
- Consider 4th location if Q3-Q4 sustains growth trajectory
- Target: Achieve $1.5M annual revenue (vs. $1.4M run rate)

Expected Impact Summary

Implementing these recommendations could yield:

- Revenue increase: 15-20% ($105K-$140K additional annual revenue)
- Average transaction value: $4.69 → $5.50 (+17%)

- Retail sales: $61K → $120K annually (+97%)
- Weekend revenue: +20% ($39K additional)
- Customer satisfaction: Improved through reduced wait times and better product mix

Quick Wins (implement within 30 days):

1. Combo meal promotions
2. Barista training on upselling
3. Bean of the Month program
4. Happy Hour pricing test

Medium-term (60-90 days):

5. Loyalty program launch
1. Store-specific optimization
2. Weekend event programming
